

Be Bold for Change

Change Management in today's times of austerity

A Business Breakfast with Belinda Holdsworth and Joe Wildfire

Budget cuts are putting increased pressure and demands on businesses to 'do more with less.' GDP has been falling the past several years, with Government spending declining as a result. Across both private and public sectors, efficiency and cost savings are increasingly important. How must we think differently to survive and thrive in this changing economic environment? How do we continue to innovate with reduced funds?

Join us for an interactive session that will cover the following topics:

- Change Management overview and tips
- Lean principles: Lessons from manufacturing and the Pharmaceutical industry
- Leveraging technology in the workplace (and at home!) to improve efficiency
- Importance of diversity to predict, plan for and adapt to change

Who should attend?

Executives, managers and professionals from all industries who need to adapt to change.
